Help students understand artificial intelligence

Every day we use and interact with devices that use artificial intelligence (AI), but to most of us the concepts of AI and machine learning are cryptic.

Join us on November 15th for our final CERTIFIED Academy: IT session! We'll learn how AI lessons can be incorporated into your classroom, plus cover example activities and projects and a variety of resources and curriculum options you can leverage.

Using certification projects to link abstract skills to practical applications

How do you bridge the gap between abstract knowledge and the real-world task- and project-based skills your students need to succeed in their careers? In our latest CERTIFIED podcast episode, science, STEM, and engineering teacher John Beale explores the answers.

Learn about John's hands-on projects, and how he creates projects to give practical applications to abstract skills. John walks through his process, so you can create projects like this in your own classroom.
