Interested in presenting a CERTIFIED breakout session?

It's that time of year again! We're starting preparations for the 2024 CERTIFIED Educator Conference, and we want YOU to be a part of it.

Nearly all our CERTIFIED sessions are presented by educators just like you. As we prepare and finalize our content for our sessions, we want to give you a chance to share your expertise. Sharing your new ideas and paths to success is the best way to help Certiport's educator community.

Get details on how to submit your own a proposal.

Don't miss our final CERTIFIED Academy: IT webinar

Help your students understand AI.

Every day we use and interact with devices that use artificial intelligence (AI), but to most of us the concepts of AI and machine learning are cryptic.

In our final CERTIFIED Academy: IT webinar, sponsored by the IT Specialist certification program, we'll learn how AI lessons can be incorporated into your classroom. Example activities and projects will be presented along with a variety of resources and available curriculum.

Don't forget to register and mark your calendars for November 15th at 12 PM ET.

INTUIT

New Exam Available: Intuit Personal Finance

We're excited to announce the launch of our new certification: Intuit Personal Finance!

Educational institutions and government bodies are increasingly prioritizing financial education, and personal finance emerges as a critical, yet often under-taught, life skill that directly impacts students' daily lives and future financial well-being. The new Intuit Personal Finance certification exam developed in partnership with Intuit is based on the national financial education standards of the Council for Economic Education (CEE) and Jump$tart coalition and is designed to empower individuals not only with the knowledge but certifiable skills that validate the mastery of the crucial life skill of personal finance.

As with many other Certiport certifications, the exam is a 50-minute exam with about 40 questions. In addition to the certification exam, educators can also access tools to teach, prepare, and assess their students' financial literacy skills. The Intuit Personal Finance program is built to help educators fulfill states' requirements on financial literacy curriculum, and help students feel confident making financial decisions that will impact their financial well-being.

On the CERTIFIED Podcast

Using rigor and soft-skills together in real-world applications

Your students are full of potential and helping them reach that potential means they need to be challenged in a rigorous learning environment. At CERTIFIED 2023, Jenny Mohess talked about using rigor in the classroom.

In our most recent episode, we recapped Jenny’s CERTIFIED presentation. We talk about challenging students and helping them gain valuable soft skills. Jenny also discusses how she gets to know the “whole student”, and how understanding your students on a deeper level helps you create a more impactful learning environment.
