Microsoft Office Specialist Office 2013 English Retirement

The Word Expert exam for Microsoft 365 Apps is set to release in June and the full suite of Microsoft 365 Apps will be available in English. Following this release, we will be retiring the MOS 2013 exams in English in July.

As a reminder, the MOS 2013 program will be retiring with the release of the new Microsoft 365 Apps exams. All 2013 exams in a given language will retire when the last Microsoft 365 Apps exam planned for that language is released.

You can find the planned release timeframes for each Microsoft 365 Apps on our Exam Releases page.

Discover how to teach Adobe Premiere Pro and Adobe After Effects in one year

According to a study conducted by HubSpot, 91% of companies are using video in their marketing efforts. Demand for video-based content in both marketing and entertainment is at an all-time high. But to prepare students for this fast-paced career, they need to be equipped with a full tool-belt of skills.

Join us June 7th at 4 PM ET where we'll be collaborating with video design educators to talk about how you can help students learn both Adobe Premiere Pro and Adobe After Effects in one year.

Celebrating Pride Month

As educators, you empower students to succeed. You equip them with life skills necessary to tackle future educational and career pursuits. There are no more important skills for future success than empathy, understanding, and respect for others, especially those marginalized within their peer groups.

To commemorate Pride Month, we have compiled a list of ways you can empower and be a safe harbor to LGBTQIA+ students.

How can I support LGBTQIA+ students?
