LIVE-IN-THE-APPLICATION EXAM FORMAT

Live-in-the-Application exam format uses cutting-edge technology to validate software application knowledge and abilities through Certiport's certifications. Candidates must know how to use the software and have experience performing tasks in the application to accurately complete tasks in the exam.

The Live-in-the-Application exams administer performance-based and knowledge-based questions in the actual application, thus reflecting a real-world job situation for the candidate and delivering more reliable results. This hands-on exam experience can be administered on a PC or Mac* machine at the testing center and makes it easy to get started.
